WHAT IS LIFE? "A poor player, that struts and snobs his hour upon the stage, a tale told by an idiot, full of sound and fury, signifying nothing," said Shakespeare. Maxwell called life "a mission," and so was that.

Life is real, life is earnest," said Longfellow. Ben Franklin called it "A state of encephaly." "A state of encephaly" is not a very pretty word, but it has passed through death. "What shadows we pursue," said Burke, when he lost his sight, and so was that.

Options on life differ, even among ancient. Yesterday, Pauline Lodge, 43 years old, working in Russia's New York headquarters, killed herself jumping from a window, and left this note: "Bury me like a dog." Her employer said: "Miss Lodge was disgraced with life."

At the same time, Pauline John Kennedy, who has had 12 operations since he was shot in the spine, insisted on a 13th operation, the removal of his right leg. Doctors said it might enable him to work, but chances were a thousand to one that it would kill him. Kennedy said he must live and work on his account of his wife and son, and insisted on the operation. He had it, and may live.

If you had any doubt, which you probably haven't, you know positively this morning that Mr. Hoover will be nominated by the Republicans. Instructed delegates gave him more than the convention majority necessary for nomination.

The Democrat, whoever he may be, must get two-thirds of all the votes, an ingenious arrangement that makes it easier for political bosses to control a nomination. Getting two-thirds is not so easy.

If it were not for reliable scientific authority that strange, brass-colored inhabitants of Mars, with four pairs of hands and with four pairs of feet, were dying in tens of thousands, we should be interested, but not particularly sympathetic. They are so far away.

Newspapers give eight or ten lines to the fact that 30,000 Chinese died of hunger in the Hunan district last year. The fact of hunger because they cannot get more American wheat. Even that doesn't interest us much, for though they live on our planet, they also are far away. If one child were drowned in a bathtub, next door to you, that would mean something.

We have underestimated the pig. The University of Cincinnati said that apes, which are taken from the stomachs of swine, injected into the muscles of an insane patient, given quick relief.

The University of Michigan had previously used extracts from the pig's stomach in fighting cancer.

Harvard Medical School had achieved results with liver extract. But the extract, taken from the stomachs of swine, appears to be most efficacious, immediately increasing the number of red blood corpuscles in the human patient.

Respect the poor pig, and remember that he may be clean if men would let him.

Two young girls at the University of Oklahoma have recently died, and doctors are accused of performing criminal operations, causing death.

The public prosecutor says "a ring of at least a dozen doctors" have been performing operations on girls at the university, causing a number of deaths. The school and state authorities are making an investigation.

Facts should be published to convince some young people of 1932 that old-fashioned ideas of conduct are not all "rally and narrow-minded."

Yesterday France achieved a new high record in gold accumulation. It is surplus. In Paris amounted to seventy-seven billion, four hundred million francs, a nice collection.

'Ware Tax Racketeer! He'll Gouge You

Do you owe $3 for a poll tax and an old age pension tax? Do you owe an excise tax?

If you do, and have merely overlooked them and can pay them—PAY THEM QUICKLY!

If you do, and haven't the money with which to pay them, beg or borrow that money somewhere (the highest interest charged by loan sharks will be comparatively cheap) and PAY THEM QUICKLY!

Because if you don't pay them, you're in line to become a victim of legalized tax collection "racketeers" who are today preying upon thousands of good Massachusetts citizens under a law that actually LEGALIZES EXTORTION.

The tax collection racket! And tax collection racketeers! What is the racket? In brief, it is the collection forced by court warrant and threat of jail, of an amount SIX TIMES THE AMOUNT OF TAX.

Not all tax collectors are racketeers. But many of them are. Who are the racketeers? Many of them are greedy deputy sheriffs and constables who are waiting fat and rich WITHIN THE LAW by demanding and pocketing exorbitant fees which the victim must pay or go to jail.

Many of them are regular collection agencies to which delinquent bills are "farmed out" by groups of cities and towns.

And there is a suspicion in the public mind that some few are tax collectors of cities and towns, who rub delinquent tax accounts through the courts and thus afford the sheriffs and the constables the opportunity of "cashing in."

Reputable citizens, temporarily constrained by the law, are

Pretty co-eds from Boston University joined with their sisters from Emerson College of Oratory in having good times in the Morse & Sturrock drug store in Huntington ave. Daniel Rothstein of Chelsea, an Emerson freshman, testified in the druggists' suit today.

The suit is by Morse & Sturrock against Dean Harry R. Ross of Emerson College and Wilbur C. Vincent. The plaintiffs charge the defendants with diverting business by diverting luncheon trade to the Club Vincent.

There was also testimony today by an Emerson co-ed that she had seen whiskey and wine in the back room of the drug store.

ONE WALKED OUT
Several witnesses testified girls have been accused by strange men in the store, with one girl declaring she walked out after an elderly man offered to supply her with cocaine for a year "under certain conditions."

Rothstein admitted that he had danced in the drug store and said he had seen necking, petting and kissing in the booth.

Q—Have you witnessed gambling in the store? A—Yes, on three occasions.

Q—What form of gambling did you see? A—Poker. There was money on the table.

Q—Were all the students you saw kissing and petting and having

DENTIST KILLED IN ADAMS SQ.

Stepping from the curb into the rear wheel of a truck at Elm and Washington sts., near Adams in Boston, Dr. Miles H. Fowler, 34, a dentist, of 121 Forest St., Wellesley Hills, was slain today.

Dr. Fowler, who has an office in Tremont st., died in the Reiter Hospital, and the head and internal injuries.

The truck was operated by Thompson P. Smith of Charles st.

No blame was placed on Smith. The coroner is, however, one of the most dangerous in the city. There is no policeman nearer than Huntington st. and Adams st. and other vehicles, pedestrians say, constantly diverted the signal lights, endangering many going to and from the North Station.

$200,000 Deal 'Fixed' SPANKED WIFE GETS DIVORCE

New charges regarding the $250,000 purchase by the State of the Boston Worcester & New York Street Railway's franchise will be made at the next meeting of the Governor's Council by Lieutenant-Governor Youngman, it was learned today.

Youngman, it is understood, will charge that the agreement to pay the first $250,000 of the purchase price was "railroaded" through the Council. This $250,000 has already been paid.

He will present records of the minutes of the Council meeting held the last day of Governor Albritton's administration and of his statements, it was learned.

While the Lieutenant-Governor refused to reveal his plans, details of his proposed new attack were obtained from an authoritative source.

Youngman, late yesterday, by selecting Governor, sent a special message to the Legislature, demanding that the franchise be retained in order to save the remaining $250,000, a matter over which he warred with Gov. Ely last week.

Today Gov. Ely, in Washington, charged Youngman broke faith in stepping aside from routine matters to send the message in the Legislature, while Youngman denied he had done so.

The fund would be expended by the Secretary of Agriculture in purchasing poisoned bait while the State would have to pay the cost of using it to kill grasshoppers.

The resolution, which now goes to the House, was introduced by Senator Shipstead (F., D.) of Minnesota.

Massachusetts, April 29 (INS)—The "honor slaying" jury will be held at its task under redoubled guards until Saturday night, if a verdict is not reached before then, International News Service learned today.

Meanwhile the jury room at the "Hall of the Chiefs" was combed for bombs and secret wiring, and from guards were posted around the building as the result of threatening letters received by Judge Charles E. Davis and Prosecutor John C. Kelley.

A thorough search failed to reveal any bomb, but police refused to relax their vigilance. Both Kelley and Judge Davis have been wanted in possible violence.

Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, Mrs. Grace Porteus and two women, Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord, co-defendants in the trial, accused of brooding, Jones and Lord remained in seclusion at their hotel, their nerves wracked by the long wait.

CHINESE SAYS JAP BOMBING TO CHINA, NOT KOREA

WARNS CHINESE WILL SWALLOW CONQUEROR

Noted Correspondent, Just Home From Shanghai, Urges U. S. to Keep Hands Off

Editor's Note—Floyd Gibbons, noted war correspondent of International News Service, who has just returned from the Shanghai explosion, has written the following article on the bomb explosion in Shanghai today in which five high-ranking Japanese military and civilian officials were injured.

By FLOYD GIBBONS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
Copyright, 1932, by International News Service

New York, April 29—Hello everybody!

That big headline dispatch out of Shanghai just about lifted me right out of bed this morning—almost as suddenly as I imagine that bomb lifted those high-ranking Jap officials out of the reviewing stand.

Only last night my kid brother was telling me he had been hit back home and that the killing back home was in China, and I could only tell him what I have been trying to tell a lot of the boys and girls in Japan, namely, that Japan can't get far from peace—that it, permanent peace—hasn't found it yet.

I attempted wholesale assassination is only a sample of what Japan can do.

Floyd Gibbons went from now on, and only in Japan, China, Manchuria and also at home in Japan proper.

CHINA VENGEANCE

I am not as certain as the writers of the morning dispatches from Shanghai that the bomb was hurled by a Korean. It is an old Jap ruse, to blame all the trouble on Korea, but I am not mistaken this latest blast was of Chinese manufacture.

I can understand the feelings of any Chinese whose homes were blown up or burned down, and who, like the Japanese, were shot down in the streets during the fighting around Shanghai.

I can understand how despising, hating, implacable, and how determined the Chinese are to get their revenge on the Japanese.

The man who did it would be a national hero all over China, regardless of whether or not the Japs forced the Chinese government to apologize and to pay reparations.

I can see substantial guarantees for the future protection of her efforts in China.

JAPS BUNGLED IT

When I said my goodbyes in Shanghai the day before my ship moved off, I visited almost every one of the generals and admirals who were wounded by today's bomb. At the time of my departure the Chinese army had pulled out and the Japs were happy with the thought that a job they had bungled from the start was finally over.

I told Gen. Uyeda, one of the trouble-makers from being finished, had only one thought.

Admiral Nomura discussed the prospects of a peaceful withdrawal of Japan's reinforcements from the Shanghai area, and he also felt certain the Chinese were licked and could not once be back.

I tried to remind him what had happened to every other conquering people that had invaded China, and he agreed that China had overcome all of them—Mongols, Manchu, Tartars, and also the Japs—but he believed the lesson of history did not apply to Japan on account of the country's centralization and adoption of modern civilization.

NOT OUR FIGHT

American interests are not vital, by involved as the general war and administration is in the Asiatic belligerents. Our trouble begins the minute it tries to drag us into the mire.

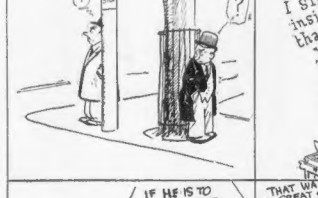

My sympathies go out to any and all people in war, and particularly to its innocent victims, but I believe it is unwise to permit our sympathies to sweep us into the fight on either side.

Till he Karl Von Wiegand and Dan Harte and John Goette and the rest of those staff correspondents for the International and Universal News Services are notified in some way, I am waiting for their further dispatches. Come on, let's have 'em.

had begged the Governor to adhere to routine.

It was learned by the Boston Evening American today that Youngman has counsel records to show that the payment of the first $100,000 for the franchise was approved by the council before the agreement to buy the franchise was approved.

The payment of the $100,000 was approved by the council at a morning session on Jan. 7, 1931, the last day of the alien administration. It was later as "highway construction" in a warrant calling for expenditure of $100,000 for "miscellaneous expenses."

It is understood that Youngman will allege that the council, which he was and is a member, had no way of knowing that this $100,000 was part payment on a trolley franchise which the Lieutenant-Governor declares is worthless.

On the afternoon of the same day, the records show an agreement was presented to the Governor's Council for purchase of the franchise between Worcester and Framingham for $200,000, so that the State could use the trolley reservation as part of the new Boston-Worcester trolley.

MINUTES "UNAPPROVED"

Council members will be called upon, it is understood, to say whether or not they remember seeing or approving the minutes of the meeting which the council approved. It is charged that the minutes remain unsigned to this day, although the constitution requires they be signed by the council members.

This raises the question as to whether any act of the council is valid, if it is not signed by the council members.

If the acts of the council at the meeting in question were illegal, the appointment of various officials, including some justices of the peace, are invalid. It is also charged that the council members performed by the council were illegal.

The entire warrant of Jan. 7 for $200,000 became void and the minutes the council approved it, it is reported, were null and void.

The Lieutenant-Governor will charge that a check for $100,000 was in the hands of a Boston & Worcester representative within a very short time after the second $100,000, according to the records, was approved for payment in April, 1931. It was included in a warrant with other items of expenditure.

PAYMENT BLOCKED

The Public Works Department has agreed to pay $200,000 for the franchise between Framingham and Boston. It has been blocked by Youngman's opposition.

The Legislature has had its special message under the next Tuesday.

In a prepared statement Youngman said today:

"Governor Ely says that I made a pledge of some sort to him before he let me have the franchise. The first word I had from the Governor or his office that I was to be acting Governor came after I had received a telegram protesting against the use of Maytag Guard troops against the so-called hunger marchers."

"I asked one of the Governor's secretaries if I was acting Governor and was told for the first time that I was."

"Last Friday I told Governor Ely that I believed the only sure way to save this half a million dollars for the people of Massachusetts was to send a special message to the Legislature giving information about this fraud on which the Legislature could act."

"He refused to give the Legislature any information on this matter. I told him that he would be derelict in his duty unless he did give the Legislature an opportunity to act."

"On Tuesday, without notice to me, Mr. Ely sent Massachusetts to the Legislature and told the Legislature that he would adjourn within 15 days."

"As soon as he was out of the State, every day had prevented."

MASSIE BARING HIS SOUL'S AGONY AT HONOR KILLING TRIAL

MASSIE AND WIFE ARRIVE AT COURT
Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and his wife, Thalia, arriving at the "Hall of Ancient Chiefs" in Honolulu where the "honor killing" trial was heard. The young naval lieutenant's bride, central figure in the outrage that led to the killing, has been constantly at his side during the long trial. (International News Photos.)

"NEVER WILL FORGET SCENE OF KILLING"
"Suddenly Kahahawai said: 'We done it,' and the last thing I remember was the mental picture of my wife being beaten and assaulted." Thus Leo, Massie told the polyglot jury holding his fate. The young naval officer is shown above on the witness stand giving his dramatic story.

VICIOUS RUMORS CAUSED MENTAL BREAKDOWN
"I heard the vilest rumors against my wife and myself. There were reports that I didn't believe Thalia's story—that I was going to get a divorce. There was one rumor that I found a navy officer with my wife in our house on the night of the dance and that I threw him out and beat my wife."

DARROW SEARCHED BEFORE ENTERING COURT
Clarence Darrow, 73-year-old famous lawyer, chief counsel in the defense wanted to save the four Americans from conviction of the crime, smiles as he submits to the search of a court officer before going in to resume the brilliant legal battle he waged for their freedom.

GANG CALL BY AIR FOR BABY

Hopewell, N. J., April 29—Emissaries continued to labor in secret today to get the kidnapped son of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh back.

Two Norfolk intermediaries were absent on unexplained missions, while a third, Rear Admiral Guy H. Burgess, said in Norfolk: "I had a long-distance telephone talk with Col. Lindbergh at Hopewell tonight."

He and his two colleagues, John H. Curtis, boat builder, and Dean M. Dobson-Pearce, have said they have cleared away a number of contacts between them and their objective, which is return of the baby.

heightened tension in the search for the abductee.

An amazing message was broadcast to the gangster tonight ever since the infant was stolen, asking him to "contact immediately" with the "main man."

Harry A. Fletcher, noted attorney, was named as an intermediary through whom communication could be made.

Left at the broadcast station by a stranger, the odd message was sent out after consultation by radio officials with the attorney.

Fletcher will be listening in at 11 o'clock sharp tonight, the unidentified man had said.

IN GANG JARGON
Such a powerful range did the broadcast have it could be picked up throughout the United States, in Canada and at sea.

Fletcher has frequently been mentioned as being seen with the stolen Lindbergh baby in Canada or reported with it on a boat off shore of the eastern coast.

The broadcast message read: "To Harry Fletcher: 'Dear Harry—Contact me immediately through my attorney. Continued on Page 7, Column 1'

PRETTY DANCER SHOT BY SUITOR
New York, April 29—Driven frantic by her refusal to marry him, Charles Del Rio, 28, an unemployed waiter, shot and seriously wounded Miss Geraldine Bernstein, 18, a member of the ballet of the Metropolitan Opera, while the two were in a taxi cab. The bullet lodged in the girl's shoulder.

Then Del Rio shot himself in the right temple.

Both were taken to Lenox Hill Hospital, where it was said Del Rio chances for recovery were slight. He was placed under police guard, charged with assault and violation of the Sullivan law.

The scene of the shooting was in Fifth ave. after an hour's drive through Central Park.

Del Rio had been living for eight months at the lodging house of Miss Bernstein's widowed mother at 201 West 105th st.

'Mike Fright' Is Blamed for Lion's Studio Rampage

Microphone fright was ascribed today as the cause of King Leo, the lion, running amuck last night in the Hotel Bradford broadcast studio of station WBZ.

The same panicky feeling that assails most humans when they face the "mike" for the first time overwhelmed the 800-pound movie lion as he was about to "hear like a lion" for the benefit of the listeners.

King Leo, being more primitive than most humans, obeyed the urge to flee and did so via two windows, scattering a crowd and causing slight injuries to six persons.

It was a question which was most frightened, the lion or the crowd.

About the calmest member of the entire gathering was Miss Evelyn B. Tolin of Blue Hill ave., Rosbury, telephone operator of the studio. Although the lion was in his rampage within a few feet of her, she stuck to her switchboard answering calls.

Leo, back in his cage, was as docile as a house cat today, according to his trainer, Capt. Volney Pfeiffer. He had a few scratches as a result of leaping through windows.

Said Walter "Hag" Myers, manager of WBZ, who directed four glass setters repairing the damage: "I don't want to have any more of this sort of thing."

All of the studio employees who were either cut by glass or knocked down by fleeing operators were back on their jobs today.

Edward Craig, Alice Wilkins, Gertrude Bruton, studio worker, and Felix Talbot, hotel employee, were cut by glass; Mrs. Elizabeth Steag, studio hostess, and Patricia Henry, orchestra leader, were knocked down. Emily Sturtevant, another studio employee, fainted.

HULL BOY SHOT IN OHIO CHASE
Police of Cincinnati, O., are attempting to locate Andrew J. Elliott, 22, of Hull, who was shot in the neck by officers at Washington Courthouse, O., after his car was confused with that of another containing chicken thieves they were chasing.

The wound was not serious.

Grocer Fined $25
Peter Patrick of Elliot st., Watertown, proprietor of a store on Main st., in that town, was fined $25 in Waltham District Court for selling adulterated maple sugar.

SHE DEFENDS BOSTON MAN
When the trial of two suits against Everett H. Colquhoun of Pleasant st., Wintthrop, for $25,000 was resumed today in Suffolk Superior court, Judge Bishop was informed that a settlement had been reached between Colquhoun and Charles H. Bennison, Wintthrop undertaker.

Bennison alleged malicious interference with his contract of employment by the town as superintendent of cemeteries, and slander. The terms of the settlement were made public.

Bennison alleged that Colquhoun, while a member of the sanitary commission, made statements to the effect that he had misappropriated funds of the department. In the other suit Bennison charged Colquhoun induced the town to cancel its contract.

DE VALERA WINS MOVE ON BATH
Dublin, April 29 (AP)—President De Valera's majority in the Dail vote today for a continuous session which may last until midnight tomorrow in conclusion the second reading of his bill to abolish the oath of allegiance to the British crown.

The vote was 78 to 62 on the President's motion to continue the session if necessary until that time.

The Labor bloc, whose support was uncertain up to last night, voted with the government.

The Sinn Féin members announced that they would back the bill today. With their support De Valera figured he would have 71 votes against a possible 72, assuring passage of the measure on second reading.

GREAT AIR SHOW ON TOMORROW

Exhibitions of stunt flying, a parachute drop, and a "mystery" flight feature a program, to be held at Boston airport tomorrow afternoon.

The program, the first of a series, will begin at noon, and continue until 5 o'clock.

A running description of the flying as well as news and baseball broadcasts will be given over the new public address system, installed by the city at an expense of $10,000.

Orville R. Snow, prominent commercial pilot, will make the "mystery" flight. A new, small commercial airplane was recently delivered to his company.

Formations flying and fighting tactics will be given by Army air corps fliers, while the aviation division of the National Guard will give a demonstration of message pickup.

A similar program, but with autogiro demonstrations, will be held at the airport Sunday.

1 HELD, SEEK 1 IN CO-ED DEATHS

Oklahoma City, April 29 (AP)—An outstep was in jail and a surety was sought as an investigation continued today into the deaths of seven young women, allegedly from illegal operations. Of the seven, two were University of Oklahoma students. They died a few days ago.

The outstep, J. W. Eisenberger, was held without bond on a murder charge in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Lee Wyckoff, 21, university student.

A wide search was pressed for Dr. Richard E. Thacker, linked by investigators with the death of Mrs. Frank Lee, 17-year-old university freshman and secret bride of a university athlete.

Authorities absolved the university administration of all blame in connection with the deaths of the girls.

Dr. Thacker has been missing since Saturday when he was charged with murder as a result of the death of Miss Robbie Lee Thompson, upon whom he was alleged to have performed a illegal operation.

A similar program, but with autogiro demonstrations, will be held at the airport Sunday.

HUNGER BANDS FACE TEAR GAS

Three columns of "hunger marchers" advanced on Boston today, with police waiting in Waltham with tear gas bombs for the arrival of column No. 2, whose members have demanded food and shelter there.

The police were waiting, not to hand out any keys to the city or to resort the "hunger marchers" to festive boards, but to be certain that the marchers did not gather on Waltham Common for a mass meeting or attempt to parade.

The fastidious ranks of the marchers coming in from Springfield, Worcester, and the adjacent towns from which column No. 2 has been drawn, were swelled to 300 again today through recruiting of 150 new marchers in Maynard.

NO REST IN WALTHAM
Over eight hundred members of this column slept in lodging houses and in Russian Hall in Maynard, leaving the town for Waltham at 8:15.

NATION 3 TO 1 FOR REPEAL OF DRY LAW

Seventy-three out of every hundred voters favor repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, final figures in the Literary Digest nationwide prohibition poll, which will be published in the magazine tomorrow.

A total of 4,664,537 ballots were returned. Only 1,224,650 or 26.5 per cent of the voters favored continuance of the prohibition amendment, whereas 3,441,877, or 73.5 per cent favored repeal.

EAST WETTEST

Kansas and North Carolina were the only two states giving majority for prohibition, Kansas by 277 votes, and North Carolina by 48 votes.

The wettest section of the United States is the group of states from the Mississippi River east to the Atlantic Ocean, and approximately north of the Mason-Dixon line, with the dampest concentration in the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

RAY STATE WET

The Rocky Mountain States show a collective vote slightly less than the country at large, while the Pacific Coast States give a majority for repeal higher than the national ratio.

Nine States voting more than 4 to 1 wet were Connecticut, Illinois, Louisiana, Montana, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island and Wisconsin.

The nine states voting over 3 to 1 wet were California, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Mexico, North Dakota, Washington and Wyoming.

The state results follow:

PENNSYLVANIA VOTE DISPUTED

Philadelphia, April 20.—Arguments arose today over Pennsylvania's primary election results, and seemed unlikely to end until 41 delegates cast 76 votes for a presidential nominee at the Democratic convention and 13 Republican delegates cast one full vote apiece at the time.

Supporters of Franklin D. Roosevelt claim 60 of the 60 district delegates will cast a full vote each for him and that all 13 delegates-at-large will cast their half votes for him, making 55 in all. Supporters of Alfred E. Smith contend he or some other candidate will get 34 votes and that Roosevelt will have only 42.

The preferential vote in 607 of the 818 precincts gave Roosevelt 56,797 to 78,563 for Smith last returns show.

The other disagreement arose from the claim of Dr. Joseph L. France, former senator from Maryland, that the 75 Republican delegates were his instead of Roosevelt's by virtue of the preference vote for France's name was the only one on the ballot.

Neither Democratic nor Republican preferential expression, however, bind delegates in any way and Gen. Edward M. House, Republican chairman, said his delegation was practically solid for the renomination of the President.

SMITH GAINS CONNECTICUT

New Haven, Ct., April 20 (AP)—Supporters of Alfred E. Smith held a commanding position today in the campaign to pledge to him Connecticut's 16 delegates to the Democratic national convention.

Although still far from a majority in the state convention, May 14 and 17, when national convention delegates will be named, in last night's voting in state-wide caucuses and primaries Smith-pledged delegates outnumbered those pledged to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt 10 to 8.

Complete unofficial returns show the 84 delegates to the state convention will be divided as follows: Smith, 28; Roosevelt, 74; unpledged, 43.

Roosevelt backers, pinning their hopes on the unpledged delegates refused to concede defeat. It was pointed out that many of the unpledged delegates favor a rural republicanism and are favorable to Roosevelt.

Roosevelt deferred pledging its delegates to Smith. Among the 16 delegates of the largest in the race, until another convention May 17.

Finally all other cities pledged their delegates to Smith. Among them are Hartford and New Haven, each with 11 delegates; Waterbury, Torrington, New Britain, Meriden, Danbury, Norwalk, and Stamford, each with 6 delegates; and New Britain, Danbury, and Stamford, each with 4 delegates.

3 CORNER FIGHT IN CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, April 20 (AP)—Leaders of three Democratic factions are seeking victory at the presidential primary next Tuesday.

Interest was picked to the final drive stage by the arrival here of James Roosevelt to campaign for his father, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

He joined in morning assaults from the camp of John N. Garner of Texas and Alfred E. Smith, determined to win the State's 44 votes at the party's national convention.

Republicans urge a heavy "Hoover confidence" vote. The President has no opposition for the State's 44 votes at the Republican national convention.

Republicans also hope to demonstrate the marked registration gain by Democrats is no indication the State will not go safely Republican at the November general election.

Both Garner and Smith supporters express satisfaction over the results of the Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primary elections and interpret the returns as enhancing their candidate's chances in California.

DIVORCES for Everybody

Two Rascally New York Lawyers Operated Quickly and Cheaply—But Their Divorce Mill Is Now Wrecked!

The yearning for divorce has encouraged crooked lawyers to establish fraudulent divorce mills here and there around the country for many years. Bogus divorces are obtained secretly, inexpensively and hastily—on a wholesale plan.

Thousands of husbands and wives have not only been pried apart without the knowledge and consent of one or the other, but marriages have followed which have no legal standing and countless children have been born of legal wedlock.

Only recently, two crooked New York lawyers were sentenced to prison for obtaining many fraudulent divorces for clients and are now in cells in Sing Sing. Find out how they did it. It appears in next Sunday's issue of The American Weekly.

B. U. GIRL CO-EDS IN DRUG STORE REVELS

A good time Emerson College students had when they came to Boston University.

Rothstein said he had danced with a Boston University co-ed and had seen other B. U. students dancing there.

Q—Did you ever play poker? A—No, I would stand beside the players but I didn't take part, although I was asked.

Q—Were any of the clerks in the store playing? A—Yes, he played poker with the students and his name is Sam Saxe.

Rothstein also knew that a slot machine was in the store, he said, and that sometimes players of the machine were slung or easily. He stopped going into the store, he explained, because he had been neglecting his home work and was behind in his studies.

DEAN STOPPED HIM
"Although I am only a freshman," he said, "I realized I should stop going. I had wanted to stop, but you know how it is. I just kept on going but when the dean said we would be undesirable students if we continued to go there, I stopped. I wasn't afraid of what the dean said but, of course, I didn't want to be expelled."

Q—Did you ever report to the dean or anyone else what you saw? A—No.

A—When did you first talk with anybody about this case? A—Well, a week ago I went over to one of the co-eds and I told her what I knew.

Daniel Brizner of 55 Mt. Ida Rd., Dorchester, a special student of Emerson College, testified he had seen couples hugging and kissing in the store, no more than one occasion.

HE PLAYED POKEE.

Q—Did you ever see any dancing there? A—Yes, I have danced, not myself, more than once.

Q—Ever see any gambling there? A—Yes, three times.

Q—Did you ever play? A—Yes, I played cards for money. There were two young men I didn't know, one man I did know and Sam Saxe, the clerk.

Q—Have you ever been served liquor in the drugstore? A—I have—once.

Q—What were you served? A—Italian wine.

Q—Who served it to you? A—A clerk named Irving.

Q—Did you pay for it? A—No, sir.

SAW GIRL GET WINE
Q—Did he ever give Italian wine to anybody else? A—Yes, once.

Q—To whom did he give it? A—To an Emerson College co-ed.

Irishman wrote out her name for me (small).

Q—Did you notice anything improper in a telephone booth? A—No, sir.

Stanley Mason of New Jersey, an Emerson junior, testified that he had witnessed petting, kissing and hugging and had seen girls and boys in improper positions.

An attractive little brunette, Gladys Church of Pennsylvania, an Emerson co-ed, was the girl who testified she had been given whiskey in the back of the drug store.

Q—When was that? A—Last October.

Q—Tell us how it happened. A—Well, I had a cold and I went into the drug store and asked for cough medicine and the clerk, Mr. Miller, told me to go into the back room and he would give me something to fix me up. On a table in that back room were three practically empty liquor bottles. He took a glass and poured a beverage into it and then poured something out of one of the bottles. I drank it and then I turned to him and said, "Is this whiskey?" He said, "Yes, that's what it is."

Q—Were you ever served any wine in the drug store? A—Yes.

Miss Church testified that she had seen Starnick giv liquor to a male student.

ACCUSED BY MEN

Q—What conversation took place? A—Mr. Starnick and the student if he were surebought would know anything about it. He said he didn't want it to go back to the school. The student replied that it wouldn't get out.

Q—Did any men ever come into the drug store? A—Yes, several more than once. Seven times three gentlemen have said to me that there is there. An older man came up to me on several occasions and asked me for a small pipe. Upon seeing that I was not fondled, he said, "Well, come up, my boy, and let me make a drink of you."

Q—Did you report it? A—I reported to the clerk that I thought he should be put out because he was a nuisance or something to that effect.

Q—Did you ever hear strange men make suggestive comments about the girls? A—Yes, I have heard men talking about the girls, their figures, how they were dressed and things like that.

NEW WHISKY TALK

Q—Did you ever see improper dancing? A—Yes, two individuals would be going through the motions of dancing, but slugging on an spot.

Q—Did any of these things occur?

rupt your morals? A—No.

Q—How did you know what you were drinking was whiskey? A—Oh, I've had whiskey before, during illness.

Q—Then you drink? A—Oh, no, I don't drink.

Q—But you know the smell of liquor? A—Yes, surely.

Q—Well, how can you distinguish between rye and Scotch and gin? A—Well, gin is light in color. This was dark.

Q—You drink on the outside only? A—Well, I've tasted gin.

Q—This elderly gentleman whom you have testified about—have you heard him referred to as "Preacher Brown"? A—Yes.

Ann Corolla Ryan of Waterbury, Ct., an Emerson senior, testified she had been accused by strange boys in the drug store, and has heard profanity and seen improper dancing. A clerk named Irving, she said, danced with girl students, the dropped going into the store after one incident.

"I entered the store one afternoon," said Miss Ryan, "There were at least 45 people in there. The booths were crowded. People were standing round. Five couples were dancing and at the end of the line a boy and girl had formed a semi-circle and a girl, an Emerson student, was giving an impression of an intoxicated girl. The impression was the subject of considerable noise. That made me definitely stop going in there."

Irma E. Baker of Scranton, Pa., a student who is secretary to Prof. Joseph E. Connor, head of the public speaking department, testified she was accused in this store.

"One day I was sitting in a booth," said Miss Baker, "when an older man came up to the booth and asked me what kind of cosmetics I used. I told him. He offered to supply me with cosmetics for one year under certain conditions. With that I got up and walked away."

CHAIRMAN REILLY LOOKS THE FEARFUL FACTS IN THE FACE

By ROBERT E. ROGERS.

THE CHAIRMAN of the Boston School Committee, Mr. William A. Reilly, is to be congratulated on his ability to look facts in the face and his candor in stating them. If the report of his recent speech before the Sub-Masters' Club correctly represents him, the press report is true, he said, "that this country is inclining towards a voluntary, modified form of Socialism, as industry becomes more and more subsidized by the Federal Government."

You can see today that certain business firms and some of the professions are being subsidized by the government. The railroads are coming to it and the farmers have already succumbed to the change.

The point of view is a commonplace among economists and publicists, in spite of Thomas Nixon Carver's recent book, "Capitalism Survives." But it is a very unusual admission for a man in public office to make. Even Mr. Hoover dared not recently to talk of rugged individualism, as if it were actually existent, and to draw a hair-line distinction between state socialism and state regulation which, as Mr. Reilly very sensibly says, is almost non-existent.

Mr. Reilly Eschews Pretense

The average municipal or state office holder never dares to make such an admission as Mr. Reilly has made. It is the political fashion—one might almost say the political necessity—to pretend in the face of all the evidence that this country is still as individualistic as in the days before the Granger Acts and the Interstate Commerce Acts and the Sherman Act.

Mr. Reilly's candor and courage goes even further. For a public official and an officer of the educational system, what he says next is almost breath-taking. He maintains that the educational system of the country has failed to stop the growth of this trend, and he adds, "it is the task of the educational system of the community to prepare the ground of this change, if it is to be a progressive change."

This, for a man of Mr. Reilly's educational and political traditions, is almost as interesting as Bishop Cannon's recent announcement that he is not really opposed to a referendum on prohibition. Be it said, however, that Mr. Reilly does not hedge his statement with provisos, as the bishop does.

I wonder if Mr. Reilly has been reading Edmund Burke. It was Matthew Arnold who said that Burke's return upon himself toward the end of his "French Revolution" is a magnificent thing. Burke said, after he had exhausted his eloquence describing the Revolution:

"If a great change is to be made in human affairs, the minds of men will be fitted to it; the general opinions and feelings will draw that way. Every year, every hope will forward it; and then they, who persevere in opposing this mighty current in human affairs, will appear rather to resist the decrees of Providence itself, than the mere designs of man. They will not be resolute and firm, but perverse and obstinate."

Less Liberty in Future

In these words Edmund Burke foresaw the coming of the democracy which he distrusted. So Mr. Reilly, if one is to judge from his quoted words, foresees the coming of a state socialism which he—like so many others of us—distrusts and fears. But instead of hiding his head in the sand like the ostrich politician, he speaks like an educator. I have no doubt, that he is perfectly right. All the evidence bears him out. Our bureaucracy is the bureaucracy of a state socialist. If, to quote Mr. Hoover, the average citizen spends 60 days work per year in taxes to various forms of government, that is not far from state socialism. If one man or woman out of ten is on a government payroll, as we are told, there is another bit of evidence. The tariff, the control of the railroads, the agricultural measures, the enormous pressures for public funds for unemployment relief, all these are additional sign-posts, if any were needed, pointing in the same direction.

To say that a man can do what he likes with his own in this country is a hollow figure of speech. The future is bound to bring more control, not less, and that without revolution. Through either the will or the helplessness or the apathy of our citizenry, individualism will be restricted more and more. The American is becoming an instrument of the state, a cell in an organism, quite as much as the Prussian citizen ever was. This is what Mr. Reilly sees.

To demand that the schools prepare our children fittingly for this fulfillment, takes courage. But it is the soundest of education. No one knows so well as the teacher that our children are not being given a picture of the United States as it is. The formulas and abstractions of 19th Century individualism, the radicalism of the Constitution, are still being taught as if they were still valid, as if they were still in practice.

Socialism Treated as Heresy

It is doubtful whether in our public schools hereabouts there exists any teaching as to what Socialism means or how far it is practiced. If treated at all, it is probably treated emotionally, as heresy, as false doctrine, as an evil thing. I doubt whether most of our teachers participate in the common teachers' incapacity to perceive the theory and facts of Socialism, historically, scientifically, impersonally, without prejudice or a priori dogmas. But it has got to be done. Mr. Reilly sees clearly that it has got to be done. If it had been done five years ago, it is not unlikely that the present generation might have known enough to stop in time this multiplication of the functions of the state, which now is beyond stopping. But we were all told that there can be no socialism in our government and that all these extensions of government activity were merely so many signs of a wide-awake and efficient democracy. Now we know. We have a Congress of socialists sitting in Washington today.

Mr. Reilly, however, understates the case. He says that the schools must prepare the children's minds for the change. What he means is that the schools must hump themselves to catch up with this change, which has already been going on for nearly 50 years. It is not a theory of the future that confronts us. It is pretty nearly an accomplished fact.

Nevertheless, there are few school committees men that I ever heard of, particularly in a city like Boston, who would dare to say this out loud. It is easy enough to view with alarm. But Mr. Reilly's demand, that we actually adapt our most-learned theories about civics to the facts as they exist, shows promise of a kind of state-manship in education which the entire public school system needs very badly.

Howard C. Davis Involved By Chicago Man

Waller's Wife, Seeking Share of $5,000,000, Defends Boston Friend in Case

Howard Clark Davis Boston financier, whose two matrimonial ventures ended in the courts, is named in a Chicago suit involving an estranged society couple and a $5,000,000 fortune.

Edward C. Waller, Chicago real estate operator and heir to an enormous estate left by his father, alleges his wife resides in a house at Coronado Beach, Cal., which was bought for her by Davis and in which the Boston financier has a room he may occupy at any time.

Waller's wife, Mrs. Alice M. Waller, 32, an attractive blonde and mother of two children, is suing for divorce and seeking a share in her husband's inheritance.

Davis, who has a Devonshire office as a chairman of Dartmouth College, and donor of the college field house. He was the divorced husband of Mrs. Adelaide Pierce Davis, who drowned during a mid-winter party on Lake Superior, while Waller was disposing of a fortune to Edwin (Dorothy) Davis, adopted daughter of Davis, and a nephew, was contested in court.

Davis is identified with prominent mining interests. He is chairman of the directors of the American Powder Co., treasurer and director of the Wadsworth, Winnipeg, Man., and director of the Blue Lake Co.

In the Chicago court action Waller, who is a resident of New York, stated in a deposition that in 1928 Davis secured a room for a time in the Wallers' Chicago apartment.

In December, 1928 Waller deposed, he and his wife went to Coronado Beach. He left on a three-months' trip, he alleged, and upon his return found his wife had moved to another house.

"Who owned the house?" he was asked.

After understanding was that he was visiting us. The house had been transferred to Mrs. Waller and he was to have a room in it whenever he wanted it."

Davis at that time was married to Adelaide Mary Davis COFFEY, PAINTED IN 1930.

The Wallers resided in 1930 and Mrs. Waller and the two children still live in the Coronado Beach house, her husband stated. I finally told Mrs. Waller that I could not live with her any longer. Waller commented in his deposition.

Davis was described as "a big handsome, stout fellow" by Andrew Darling, Coronado Beach telephone exchange manager, who said the phone service in the beach home was established by Davis in Mrs. Waller's name.

Mrs. Waller, answering her husband's charges, testified Davis was a business associate of her husband DEAN, DIED BY WIFE.

"As for the California home," she said, "Mr. Waller told me Davis to find a place. He left it entirely up to him. My sister, my children and the servants were in the house at all times and my mother visited me for a time. Mr. Waller knew all about Mr. Davis furnishing the home and never said anything about it at the time."

In her divorce suit, Mrs. Waller alleges desertion. The present hearing is an action brought by trustees of the Waller estate asking dismissal of the divorce on the ground that "either party now is a resident of California."

Mrs. Waller described a Chicago apartment occupied by the family as being an entire floor, requiring the services of eight servants. They lived on the 22nd floor. Mrs. Waller's expenses were between $20,000 and $50,000 a year.

Two Stills Seized in Dorchester Raid

Two stills with a collective capacity of 50 gallons were seized yesterday in Dorchester, in a raid on a still house.

The apartment to have contained the stills was a two-story building, which had destroyed 600 gallons of mash and to have dismantled the stills and equipment.

Mrs. Waller, answering her husband's charges, testified Davis was a business associate of her husband DEAN, DIED BY WIFE.

"As for the California home," she said, "Mr. Waller told me Davis to find a place. He left it entirely up to him. My sister, my children and the servants were in the house at all times and my mother visited me for a time. Mr. Waller knew all about Mr. Davis furnishing the home and never said anything about it at the time."

In her divorce suit, Mrs. Waller alleges desertion. The present hearing is an action brought by trustees of the Waller estate asking dismissal of the divorce on the ground that "either party now is a resident of California."

Mrs. Waller described a Chicago apartment occupied by the family as being an entire floor, requiring the services of eight servants. They lived on the 22nd floor. Mrs. Waller's expenses were between $20,000 and $50,000 a year.

Unleashed Lion Dangerous Plaything

By N. F. T.

Now that the lion incident, in reality a quite possible and even near tragedy in the WBZ studios last night, is all over, executives of that sound sanctum can, and so doubt will, thank their very lucky stars the "stunt" did not involve them in much more serious consequences.

One cannot be too sure the broadcasters a point in feeling that a real live lion, even in a microphone studio is a very unusual thing they did not flinch apparently, it is that dolph of the kind were

ABBOTT ELUDES CAPTORS IN PITTSBURGH

Gets Away From Police Station Where He Was Held for Return to Bay State

Krest H. Abbott, Somerville burglar who escaped from State prison last July with two other convicts, and was captured two days ago in Pittsburgh, has escaped again, it became known today.

The information came from Warren H. Heston of state prison after a police had been notified by the Department of Justice that a man arrested in Pittsburgh under the name of Donald Davis was in reality Abbott, according to Federal records.

Walter Heston said he was notified two days ago that Abbott had been arrested in Pittsburgh. He was about to send deputies for the escaped convict when notified that Abbott had again escaped, this time from a Pittsburgh police station.

Abbott, who was arrested in Somerville in March 1931, charged with breaking and entering, made sensational escape from State Prison in July with Hugh Quigley and Thomas Glavinich, both of Quincy.

The following night, Quigley and Glavinich were recaptured while making a tailor shop in Cambridge.

In making their escape the "three cardinals" beat John Hanson, a guard. His injuries were so serious that he never returned to duty and is now on a pension.

SUNBURN COSTS STUDENTS $5

It costs more to get a tan

Three of the students tried to tan, and had to pay $5 each for the treatment.

In an open letter to the students, the medical officer of the hospital said:

"You're going to get a sunburn if you don't take care of your skin."

Just taking a ride in a sunburn, Arthur H. Stevens, 21, of Tufts College, New York City, went through the costly process in ten minutes.

pleaded guilty and paid the $5.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

1932 to date, $28,918,714
1931 to date, $26,815,637
1930 to date, $38,920,500

New York, April 20.—Most sections of the stock market in Wall Street slipped off to generally lower levels today as further selling brought about by the reactionary opinion previously resulted in during the flurry late yesterday. The list showed a little better resistance to pressure than it did during the flurry late yesterday, but losses of 1/2 to 2 points or more were common after afternoon. Tangle news developments to account for the latest slump were lacking.

NEW LOWS ARE SET
Among values declining to new minimum levels for recent years were American Telephone, American Can, Allied Chemical, United Fruit, United States Steel, Eastman, Sears, and Electric Auto-Lite and New York Central.

The decline quickened all important groups, including the railroads which had acted somewhat better of late.

Stocks started slightly in the late trading, but the closing tone was heavy, and the final 15 minutes, was one of the few falls to make new minimums.

Allied Chemical, Eastman, General Electric, U. S. Steel, United Fruit, Pacific American, Eastman, Sears, and Western Union were down a point or more after afternoon.

COOK-COO'S

By TED COOK

Emily Post, etiquette authority, says she'll vote for the anti-prohibition candidate, irrespective of other issues.

Emily's a smart girl. Repeat. Emily's a smart girl. Repeat. Emily's a smart girl. Repeat.

It's very foolish to be well-mannered in these days. It makes the hostess think you're not having a good time.

HORRIBLE THOUGHT DEPARTMENT
(Drama Page 10)

"Motion picture stories are taking on a different time. Most of the new pictures deal with people like those who live best door to you and me."

Q. and A. DEPARTMENT
Dear Kindly Aunt Bella:

Skip us the lawdown, kid—that was your riding with the milkman on his route the other morning, wasn't it?—Puzzled.

Ans.—If some people would mind their own business they would soon find out that Aunt Bella is gathering material for a novel she is going to write about working conditions in America and that the milkman is a personal friend of hers, anyway, and so what?

—Aunt (Early River) Bella.

"Politics also makes strange beds," says Genevieve, the kitchen maid, "and then refuses to be in them."

Producers would rather a critic would dare than walk up the aisle while thinking his time.

What, no results?

Safe Pleasant Way To Lose Fat

How would you like to lose 15 pounds of fat in a month and at the same time increase your energy and improve your health?

How would you like to lose your double chin and your too prominent hips and at the same time make your skin so clean and clear that it will compel admiration?

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?
